Exceeding Expectations

Certn is proud to help Pacific Western Transportation accomplish its mission of exceeding customer expectations by employing talented people who share in the dedication of a company committed to “Safety and Service.” The transportation company believes that their people are their greatest asset — qualified candidates become the ones safely transporting passengers where they need to be.

Pacific Western Transportation has a centralized recruitment department that hires employees across Canada, and one of their pain points was getting background checks done quickly and accurately. Before Certn, everything was done manually — with hard copy paper applications.

By running background screening all in one place on Certn's platform, Pacific Western Transportation's talent team can spend more time toward recruiting candidates instead of focusing on administrative follow-up tasks.

"The ease of use for both the recruiter and candidates definitely cuts down on the follow-up time -- from days to within the hour."
